THE LIVE OAK

September/October 2012

Oakland, California

SEPTEMBER MEETING

Wednesday, September 12, 2012 - 10 a.m. in the Oakland Family History Library Meeting Room

LAND AND PROPERTY RECORDS

Speaker - Vera Broyles

Vera has had many years of genealogical research experience and has been among the volunteer staff at the Family History Center for most of that time. We are looking forward to a very interesting and educational meeting.

She will pass on many tips and suggestions to help us locate land and property records, how to decipher the information therein and their usefulness in your genealogical research.

OCTOBER MEETING

Wednesday, October 10, 2012 - 10 a.m. in the Oakland Family History Library Meeting Room

RESEARCHING IN PENNSYLVANIA

Speaker - Richard Ferman

Richard Ferman has been on our program in the past and we look forward to having him once again.

Richard has several research books on Pennsylvania that he is anxious to share with us, along with his experience. He will discuss Southeast PA, Pittsburgh and Alleghany County. Pennsylvania can be a very problematic state in which to accomplish genealogical research.

Many of us have been looking forward to this meeting and the research help that Richard can provide.

Looking back at July: Due to the stress of having my husband in the hospital with a broken hip, I neglected to follow up with our speaker and she was unable to attend. My sincere apologies all around.

We did manage an impromptu meeting, discussing many topics amongst ourselves and it was really quite enlightening and entertaining. We are getting good at this - but, hopefully, won't have to do it again real soon!

There was no meeting in August. Hope everyone had a delightful summer. Did you take a genealogical research trip, make a great discovery or break down that brick wall? Hope so! I am looking forward to a deluge of research or family stories to pass on to our members via this newsletter.

EBGS NEWS

Since we had no meetings in August, there is not a lot of news to report. We have programs planned for the remainder of this year - that is a relief.

Our new Membership Roster is included in this issue. Please check your information and let me know if there is an error. An email to c-kstorm@juno.com will suffice, Subject: EBGs, so I don't dump it by mistake. Thank you. And, a big thank you to Starr Brown for helping get the Roster information together.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

The 1911 Scottish Census is now available. It includes details collected from more than 4.7 million Scots, including name, address, age, occupation, birth place and marital status of everyone enumerated. It is presented in full color and on ScotlandsPeople, the official government source for Scottish genealogy, census and family research. Full details on how to access this information can be found at: <http://www.scotlandspeople.gov.uk/> (from Western PA Genealogical Society Newsletter)

VIRGINIA Puts Burial Records of Veterans on Internet: Virginia has made it easier and faster for the public to get answers about family history, old war buddies or famous war heroes. The agency put on the web 3.2 million records for veterans buried at 120 national cemeteries since the Civil War. The website is: www.cem.va.gov

The VA's Nationwide Gravesite Locator also has records for some state veterans' cemeteries and burials in Arlington National Cemetery since 1999. The gravesite navigator includes names, dates of birth and death, military service dates, service branch and rank if known, cemetery information and grave location in the cemetery. The VA information is FREE. (Springfield News, Sunday, May, 2004)

Researching in New York? Some name changes can be found in "General Index to the Laws of the State Of New York, 1902-1907". by New York (State), Archie Easton Baxter. Search for the book first and then the surname. Searching on the surname first may give you too many hits. This book should be available on Google Books for different years as well. (Journal of the San Francisco Bay Area Jewish Genealogical Society, May, 2012)

Westchester County (NY) Archives: Indices include naturalizations from 1808-1955, wills, marriages, and more. <http://archives.westchestergov.com/online-indexes> (Journal of the SF Bay Area Jewish Gen. Soc. May 2012)

Family Tree Magazine - www.familytreemagazine.com has a very useful and informative article in the September, 2012 issue: "10 Hints for Using Deeds". Oakland FHC library has a paper copy for your perusal.

Primary sources (diaries, letters, newspaper accounts) are recorded or written down at the time of the event, while secondary sources (memoirs, autobiographies, formal histories) are recorded later. A useful resource for finding primary source material is:

A brief guide to finding, evaluating and citing primary internet resources with excellent examples of specific documents and image files. Created by the Reference and User Services Association of the American Library

TEHAMA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA - A Thumbnail Sketch

Tehama County is located in central Northern California, halfway between Sacramento and the Oregon border. It is bisected by the Sacramento River. The county was formed from parts of Butte, Colusa and Shasta Counties in 1856. In 2010 the population was 63,463. The County Seat is Red Bluff.

The first permanent settlers were Robert Hasty Thomas, Albert Gallatin Toomes, William George Chard, Job Francis Dye and Josiah Beldon who were each given land grants by the government of Mexico in 1844.

RICHMOND, CALIFORNIA AND KAISER SHIPYARDS

Richmond, California became well-known by 1943. Richmond's shipbuilding prowess became a shining example to the Allies and a grim warning to their Axis adversaries. Ships built in Richmond and other yards in the San Francisco Bay were delivering massive amounts of troops, supplies and weapons to the world's battlefields.

During the war years, Richmond's shipyards produced 747 ships. When the Richmond yard reduced the time needed to build a ship to four days, their accomplishment became a symbol of American determination, Yankee ingenuity and of the fact that when a free nation becomes aroused and begins to fight for its liberty, there's no limit to what its people can accomplish. The men and women building ships in the Richmond yards were hard-working people who took much pride in their accomplishments - as well they should have!

Some of these ships were lost in enemy action, many of them have been sold for scrap. The Red Oak Victory, the lone survivor, remains. Many citizens as well as the Richmond Museum of History are hoping to keep and restore her as a museum. Let's hope they succeed! (Excerpted and edited from Newsletter of the Richmond Museum of History)

American industrialist, Henry J. Kaiser, established four of his seven major shipyards in Richmond, California. Kaiser was known for developing new methods of ship building, which allowed his yards to out produce other similar facilities and build 1,499 ships, 27 percent of the total Maritime Commission construction. Kaiser's ships were completed in two-thirds the time and a quarter the cost of the average of all other shipyards. Kaiser shipyards produced Liberty and Victory ships as well as transports and LSTs. (Excerpted and edited from Wikipedia)

The photo below is of the launching party for the M.S. Square Sinnet, April 14, 1945, Kaiser shipyard No. 4, Richmond, CA. I believe the man second from the left, B. G. Wester and his wife, Dorothy (third from the right) were sponsors of the ship. B. G. Wester worked for Kaiser Shipyards in the offices. They were close friends of my parents, Harold and Bernice Segerquist (on the right in the photo). My father may have worked at Kaiser Shipyard at the time, I cannot recall. I know he worked at Mare Island and later for Pacific Bridge Company on the Oakland Estuary. My mother served as Matron of Honor for the launching ceremony. I had a beautiful new dress and was to be Flower Girl, I was six years old at the time. However, the launch time kept getting postponed, or moved forward perhaps of Kaiser's speedy building techniques. The ship was finally launched at 3 am, hence, I was home in bed and missed it! My lovely bouquet of yellow roses was in the refrigerator for me in the morning and my parents were recovering from what must have been a great party!

FRESNO COUNTY, CALIFORNIA - A Thumbnail Sketch

The sixth largest county in the state, Fresno County is located in California's Central Valley. This area became the property of the United States in 1846, after the Mexican War. The county was formed in 1856 from parts of Mariposa, Merced and Tulare counties. Parts of Fresno County were given to Mono County in 1861 and to Madera County in 1893. For a brief time the original county seat was Millerton. A flood along the San Joaquin River destroyed most of Millerton and the county seat was later established in Fresno, the largest incorporated city in the county.

A series of canals bringing water to the Central Valley has enabled Fresno County to be considered the most agriculturally rich county in the United States. Wine, fruit, nuts, cotton and beef and dairy industries are the backbone of Fresno County's economy along with rich oil fields in the city of Coalinga.

California History and Genealogy Room also holds the collection of the Fresno County Genealogical Society. Among the many resources available at the county library are an almost complete collection of City Directories for the City of Fresno, plus directories for many other cities within the county, along with a major collection of telephone books. Their microfilms of early Fresno City newspapers date back to the late 1800s, plus they have films of several other newspapers from Fresno County cities. They have a comprehensive collection of high school yearbooks covering the city of Fresno and other cities throughout the county.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Some Irish Tidbits: The expression "Fighting Irish" goes far back in history to when the Irish honored warriors in their culture. The expression came to the United States due to the large number of soldiers who fought with George Washington (The estimates range from a third to a half of his regular troops). It is not surprising that Notre Dame University adopted the name "The Fighting Irish" for their football team. The "Luck of the Irish" came from many examples. One goes back to Leadville Johnny Brown and his wife, the Unsinkable Molly. One day, by mistake, Johnny burned a small fortune in paper money. A short time later he discovered one of the richest iron ore mines in Colorado history. He called it "The Luck of the Irish". His wife, who survived the sinking of the Titanic, attributed her good fortune to "Irish Luck". The Irish are a flamboyant and irrepressible people who enjoy celebrating life. They have added much to American culture. Bless them...

Alien Files (A-Files) Available at San Bruno National Archives: Tens of thousands of old West Coast immigration records are now open to the public. The records include photographs, letters, health records, interview transcripts and other historical documents. Check out the name based online index at www.archives.gov/pacific/san-francisco.

Preserving Newspaper Clippings: Experts at the National Archives suggest the following method of preserving old newspapers. Mix two teaspoons of magnesium carbonate and a quart of club soda in a large plastic dish. Sandwich the clippings between two pieces of screen or Pellon, a material sold in most fabric stores. Soak for 30 minutes. Mop up excess liquid with blotting paper and allow to dry overnight on more blotting paper. After using this preservative technique, store the clippings in a well-sealed plastic bag. They should keep forever. Ed. note: archival envelope or plastic bag?

Draft Cards: Family Search has recently added 25 million WWI draft registration cards to its collection. They are free to see at www.FamilySearch.org.

<http://books.familysearch.org> Wow! Check this out! According to Eastman's Online Genealogical Newsletter, March 4, 2012... You can search through more than 40,000 digitized genealogy and family history books from the archives of important family history libraries in the U.S. Every word in every book is searchable. Materials in the collection include family, county, and local histories, genealogy magazines, how-to books, gazetteers, pedigrees, and medieval histories. This is an ongoing effort, so if you don't find what you are looking for today, come back and search again in a week or so. Books are constantly being added. Search easily by entering a name in the search box; or for more exact results, use Advanced Search.
